

Personal statement

Full-Stack Web Developer with a strong work ethic and a long-standing interest in technology. I started building websites as a teenager and later developed discipline, adaptability, and attention to detail through 17 years working in carpentry. After completing a year of formal training, I have been self-learning for the past two years, building projects and continuously improving my skills.

I enjoy working on practical, real-world applications.

Check out my GitHub for examples of my projects and code.

Work Experience

Iller

France
Mai 2024 – Sept 2024

Full-stack Developer

- Designed and built a B2B Progressive Web App and website enabling restaurateurs to order fresh produce online.
- Developed the application end-to-end using PHP, JQuery, JavaScript, and MySQL, from database design to MVP delivery.
- Implemented core business features:
 - shopping cart and checkout flow,
 - invoice generation,
 - order history and management,
 - push notifications for order status updates.

Worked in collaboration with a senior developer, who handled the ERP-to-website database integration by building a data bridge in C#, while I focused on the web application logic and features.
